NO CIVIL PENSION LIST.

However charitably disposed one may be in mind towards the Department clerks of the police station. at Washington who have toiled at their deaks for salaries and their country for terms of thirty years or more he will scarcely feel impelled to indorse at once the propose! for a civil pension list. This proposal is being considered at Washington. In one form it contemplates the retirement on threequarters pay of all clerks over sixty-five years of age. Postmaster-General Wana-MAKER gives a most singular reason for favoring the plan. He says:

We already have in effect a civil pension list. That is to say, persons are borne upor the rolls of the Department who, from metives of humanity, can neither be removed nor expected to do the work that is required move them. They cannot do the work that is | their heads may fall. required of them, because they are incapac tated by old age.
